Curriculum and Instruction PhD Degree Residency Requirements

The PhD prepares candidates for careers in university settings. It is designed for graduates who will have significant research and higher education teaching responsibilities.

Please use the form below to describe the activities you have completed during the duration of your doctoral program. Committee chairs should be consulted about plans for completing these requirements early in your program. The signature of the chair of your committee at the end of this form constitutes approval of your successful completion of residency requirements for the PhD. Mail to Krista Terrell, 2805 Old Main Hill, USU, Logan, Utah 84322-2805, or submit by email to krista.terrell@usu.edu at the time the Appointment for Examination form is submitted.

These activities are in addition to the coursework and research project that leads to and includes your dissertation. The content of the presentation and publication must be related to your doctoral specialization in curriculum and instruction.

1) All PhD candidates are required to present once at a state, regional, or national conference. The professional conference must be one in which there is a call for papers and a systematic process used to select the papers that will be presented. Please attach a photocopy of the meeting program documenting participation.

Name of Meeting: __________________________________________________________

Location: __________________________ Date: __________________________

Title of Presentation: ______________________________________________________

2) Publishing your scholarship is an expectation of the PhD program. All candidates must have submitted a manuscript to a peer reviewed professional journal at the time of their defense. Please attach a photocopy verifying the editor’s receipt of the manuscript.

Title of manuscript: _______________________________________________________

Journal: _______________________________________________________________
The activities categorized below are intended to guide and help you confirm your immersion in the work of the academic community. Please note that one extensive commitment, such as serving as an officer or conference chair for a major professional organization or working extensively on one grant could generate multiple opportunities that should be documented individually. Students should summarize/document each activity carefully so that the chair of the committee is able to confirm the completion of the work.

3) Research and creative endeavors:
   (e.g., participate in a research project; participate in a grant funded project; apply for graduate student funding; write/co-write a grant to fund a research project; publish an article in a professional organization’s newsletter; publish a book review)

4) Immersion in the culture of graduate education:
   (e.g., participate in scholarly discussion or writing groups; graduate student organizations and events such as Graduate Student Senate or USU Research Week; committee or service work within the department, college, or university; coursework or immersion in literature beyond requirements)

5) Engagement in professional activities of the discipline:
   (e.g., teach a college course; work as a research or teaching assistant at the college level; conduct a guest lecture or workshop; attend local, regional, or national scholarly professional meetings; hold office in local, regional, or national scholarly professional meetings; organizing informal seminars, consortia, or orientation programs; serve as a reviewer for a professional conference or journal)
