APPLICATION PROCESS

Applications: The Utah Department of Education has purchased Teachers-Teachers.com and is a tool for all Utah schools to post employment needs. Creating an account on Teachers-Teachers.com will give you access to both Utah and nationwide openings in public and charter schools. In addition to the statewide application, some schools may have additional follow-up questions.

Not all Utah schools/districts, however, use Teacher-Teachers.com. It is always recommended that you first, visit the website of the school/district of interest to assess the preferred application process. Additional resources are found online at:

www.usu.edu/career/students/education.

Additionally, use TeachUtah.org for Utah-specific job postings.

Teacher Database: Fill out the registration sheet at Career Services. This sheet is used to refer you to school districts looking to fill positions, which happens on a regular basis throughout the summer.

Interviews: A screening interview is scheduled through the school district. Larger districts usually won’t consider your application complete without the screening interview. Applicants that pass the screening interview will be asked to interview with principals for specific openings. Improve your interviewing skills by participating in a teacher-related mock interview with your career coach at Career Services.

UTAH STATEWIDE TEACHER FAIRS
Mark your calendars for the Statewide Teacher Fairs held in March at Utah State University (North Fair) and Brigham Young University (South Fair). You can network with school districts and charter schools from Utah and throughout the nation as well as interview for teaching positions. For more information, go to: www.uaee.org.

ON CAMPUS INTERVIEWS
Most teacher interviews take place at Career Services in December as well as February through April. Notifications will be sent via Aggie Handshake to you if on-campus interviews are taking place. To schedule an interview with a school/district, simply call 435-797-7777. Come dressed to impress and fill out an online application for the school and upload the necessary digital documents prior to the interview. If you don’t have your final student teaching evaluations when you interview, it is okay. Schools understand you haven’t received them yet, and they will ask you to submit them when you have them.

LICENSING OR CERTIFICATION
It is your responsibility to apply for your state license. This is done through the license office (room 103) just south of the Dean’s Office in the College of Education or through the Utah State Office of Education webpage at: www.usoe.k12.ut.us.

It is not necessary to be licensed in other states when you’re applying for a teaching position outside Utah. When you accept a job in another state, you will need to get licensed, even if it is temporary or provisional.

KEEP US AWARE OF YOUR STATUS
Career Services is very interested in your career success and keeps records on USU graduates. Referrals are continually given to employers so up-to-date employment information is critical. Please respond to an email from Career Services to report your employment status or graduate school plans.

If you’re currently not seeking employment or if your contact information changes, phone (435) 797-7777 or email career.services@usu.edu.

1. Log In
   b. Enter Username and Password. If you are not already registered, then select the register tab and register.

2. Account Display
   a. There are five tabs across the top of the page.
   b. Dashboard tab – Provides information at a glance as well as instructions and links to various sections of the account.
   c. Opportunities tab – Provides tools to view employers’ job postings, events, and announcements, make your resume visible to employers, see invitations from employers, and view and manage your application history.
   d. Application tab – Provides tools to create an online resume and store documents such as transcripts.
   e. Message Center tab – Provides tools to create, store, send, and track messages.
   f. Account tab – Provides tools to manage your login information, create email settings, etc.

3. Application Tab
   a. Your online resume is created and stored here. When applying to a posting, some employers will ask you to “Submit Resume” and they will accept whatever you have created in this tab. Other employers will ask you to “Submit Application”. In this case, an application will appear and be auto-populated by your resume. If you are missing sections that the employer requires, they will be indicated so that you can return to this tab and complete them.
   b. Resume – Use the Resume Builder on the left side of the page and fill in the sections that are relevant to you.
      i. Certification/Licenses
         1. If you are licensed, fill in the necessary fields. If you are not yet licensed, select the license you expect to receive and indicate that you will be graduating from a state-approved teacher preparation program.
         2. Scroll through the “Position Areas” and select ALL positions this license qualifies you to teach.
         3. Select all age levels this license qualifies you to teach.
   c. Sensitive Information – Sensitive data will only be released to an employer if they ask for it during the application process and you grant them permission to have it. Even so, they will not see the data; it will only be saved in the database so that they can run general demographic type reports. The exception to this is if they ask for a social security number. If you grant them permission, they will be able to see it.
   d. Documents
      i. Some employers ask that you upload documents in addition to submitting an application. You will need to upload documents in advance in the Document section so that they will be available to you when applying.
      ii. Documents must be saved in PDF format in order to be uploaded.
      iii. Even if you attach a document to a particular section of your resume by using the Resume Builder (e.g. a transcript after your college information), it will only be visible to employers if they specifically ask for it as part of the application process and you attach it to the application in response. (This action sends them a pdf of the document and, if you have embedded it in the resume, allows them to view it there as well.)

4. Opportunities Tab
   a. Search and Browse - There are multiple ways to view job postings. You may “Browse” using various filters, enter the name of an employer in the keyword search, or “Search” the system with customized searches that you create.
   b. Post Resume - Employers may search the database proactively for candidates who have not yet applied. “Post Resume” is where you decide who will be able to view your resume when they do this.
   c. When viewing job postings from the Browse or Search pages, click on the Job Title of the posting to display the text.
   d. Within each job, you will see a symbol next to license requirements. A green check mark means that your qualifications match the requirements of the posting and you can apply. The yellow caution sign indicates that your license does not match the requirements of the posting. You will be able to view the posting but not apply. If you believe that this is incorrect, go back to the Application tab and review the license section. Make sure you have selected all the positions and grade levels that your license allows you to teach.
   e. If you would like to apply, scroll down and you will see either a “Send Resume” or “Send Application” button.
      i. “Send Resume” – When you click on this button it will send your resume instantly. You have applied and are done, unless the employer contacts you with additional instructions.
      ii. “Send Application” – When you click on this button, the employer’s application will appear. If the employer requires sections from the resume to be filled out that you have not addressed, a yellow caution sign will advise you to do so. The employer may also ask you to answer additional questions. Below the application, some employers will ask you to attach additional documents. If you have previously uploaded your documents in the Application tab and created a master list, that list will appear and you can select the documents that meet the employer’s request and attach them. If you have not previously uploaded a necessary document, submit the application first, before leaving to upload the document. If you leave the application without submitting, your completed application information will not be saved. After you have uploaded the missing document to your master list, you can go back to your submitted application (in Application History) and attach the document.
   f. You may want to apply to multiple positions with the same employer. If you submit an application through Teachers-Teachers.com the first time you apply, the next time you apply to a position with that employer you may see a prompt asking if you would like to reuse the previous application. Unless something has changed (e.g. it has been over a year since you last applied), please choose the option to reuse the existing application.
Networking

Make the most of an employer/alumni contact for this important networking event ahead of time. Review the following keys to successful attendance and visit your Career Coach at Career Services for any additional questions and advice. Whether you are a freshman or a PhD candidate. UAEE’s Statewide Teacher Fairs can serve as a valuable resource to explore teaching careers and seek employment.

Six Steps to Networking Success
Depending on your interest in exploring careers in education versus obtaining a specific teaching position, follow these five steps in preparing for successful networking:

1. Research organizations
2. Prepare your resume and online social media presence
3. Prepare your approach & introduction
4. Ask questions
5. Follow-up

Step 1 – Research Organizations
View the list of employers attending the Teacher Fairs online and identify those you are most interested in approaching. A quick visit to these organizations’ web sites to review their mission statements, operations, and typical job openings will help you decide. A list of schools attending the fairs can be seen at www.uaee.org.

Step 2 – Prepare Your Resume
A targeted resume works best when applying for a teaching position. Include an objective statement if targeting your priority schools/districts with a customized resume. Drop-in resume edits are available on Monday-Friday, check website for times (other times by appointment). You can also create a student business card by visiting Career Services’ website. Don’t wait until the last minute to get help with your resume.

Step 3 – Prepare Your Approach & Intro.
Name badges are available at the entrance to the Teacher Fairs and employers prefer seeing your name, major, and graduation date before you even begin talking with them! Employers expect you to walk up and introduce yourself. This may feel uncomfortable at first, but with practice you will get used to doing it and doing it well! Remember, recruiters are at the Teacher Fair to meet you.

Sample Introduction: “Hello, my name is Jon; it is very nice to meet you. I am a senior working on a BS in Teaching English with an endorsement in ESL. I would like to know what positions are available within your school/district that I might be qualified for.”

Step 4 – Ask Questions
The process of researching organizations will likely make you think of questions you would like to ask recruiters when you meet them at the Teacher Fair.

Step 5 – Follow-up
Once you make a great first impression, keep the ball rolling with effective follow-up! You can do this through email, phone, or the mail and should be done within a few weeks of the event. Your message should include another thank you, state your interest in pursuing a position with their organization (now or in the future), and request an opportunity to meet again to discuss your qualifications in great detail. Once you have completed an online application, let this contact know.

Having a contact inside the school/district to follow-up with after the Teacher Fairs is a key reason you should attend!

The word “credentials” is used often in the field of education to describe a number of different documents used to denote official evaluations and/or proficiencies. Some school districts will ask for your “reference file” or “placement file.” These mean the same thing as your credential file.

School districts use "credentials" to describe documents that provide teaching candidates credibility with their school administrators. In the past, most districts, at some point in the application process, would require an "official" (i.e., copied and mailed from Career Services) credential file from all candidates. This practice is no longer followed.

Career Services continues to recommend self-managed credential files because in most cases a photocopy of the requested documents, provided by you, will be sufficient for the districts. Many districts will require all or most your documentation to be submitted electronically, thus bypassing the need to have the Career Center send your file. In order to submit your application materials in a timely manner, ensure you are prepared with the following items:

- Cover Letter
  Larger school districts are interested in having a cover letter; with smaller districts it is optional.

- Resume
  Develop a targeted, attractive, and error-free resume that will advertise your qualifications and background.

- Academic Transcript
  Have an unofficial copy of your transcript in your file. When your degree is posted on your transcript, replace the transcript you are currently using with the one that shows your degree.

- PRAXIS Scores
  Include a copy of your PRAXIS scores once you have passed the appropriate PRAXIS exam(s).

- Student Teaching Evaluations
  Refer to your Student Teacher Coordinator for details on how you will receive your final evaluations. If you apply for a position before your evaluations are available, simply notify the district to which you are applying that you have yet to receive your final evaluations and will send them once they are available.

- Letters of Recommendation
  Obtain three letters of recommendation from individuals that know your potential as a teacher (professors, teachers, principals) and/or what kind of worker you are (supervisors). Avoid personal or character references.

Maintaining and Keeping Your File Current:
- Update your contact information as necessary.
- Scan all necessary items (i.e. Student Teacher Evaluations or Letters of Recommendation) and have ready to submit with on-line applications.
- Obtain a new copy of your transcript whenever you complete additional classes.
- Revise your resume frequently to reflect new achievements, especially throughout your semester of student teaching.
- Replace older, less valuable letters with newer letters from school administrators.

Sending/Delivering Your File to a School/District:
- Take note of posted deadlines and be prepared to send your materials in time to meet them. Many districts now prefer these items be submitted online.
- Make certain every document has your name and includes all required signatures.

When sending a hard copy of your file:
- Send only copies and keep your originals for future use.
- Mail/deliver your file in a large envelope; do not fold your file materials.
- Paperclip your materials together within the envelope and ensure that you use the cover page prepared for you on the website listed above.
- Ensure that your envelope has the complete application mailing address.
Elements of a Successful Cover Letter

SPECIAL EDUCATION TEACHING POSITION

Enclosed please find my application materials for a teaching position at National Schools. In May I will complete my B.A. in English from Utah State and will hold New York State Certification in Special and Elementary Education. I had the opportunity to complete student teaching in your district. I truly appreciate the professionalism and caring attitude of the teachers and staff.

During my student teaching, I worked with students at the elementary, middle, and high school levels. This included providing individual, small group, and whole class instruction to students with learning disabilities, emotional disturbances, and multiple disabilities. I value individuality, and strive to meet the needs of each student. To accomplish this, I use a variety of hands-on activities and different teaching strategies to accommodate diverse learning styles. I also recognize the importance of trust, and successfully established relationships with students that resulted in a safe and comfortable, yet challenging, learning environment.

In addition, for the last four years I have worked with youth, ages 6-16, in a local summer recreation program. I gained valuable group management skills and developed positive relationships with the youth in this program.

I will contact you next week to schedule an interview to discuss my qualifications as they relate to this position. Thank you for your consideration, and I look forward to talking with you.

Sincerely,

Richard Anderson

Dr. John Jones
Superintendent
Ashwood Middle School
Alton, CO 80230

Dear Dr. Jones:

On June 15, 20xx, I will be relocating to the Denver area. I am currently completing a degree for a Bachelor of Science in Secondary Education from Utah State University with an endorsement in English and will graduate next month. Although I am not aware of any opening in your school district for the upcoming year, I would like to be considered for any potential opening in English that may occur.

Currently, I am completing my student teaching experience at Logan Middle School in Logan, Utah. My assignment has included teaching ninth-grade grammar and composition as well as eighth-grade literature. In addition, I am coaching eighth-grade girls’ track. My application for Utah Teacher Certification is pending, and I have begun the application process for Colorado Teacher Certification.

I am prepared for the opportunity to work with the teaching faculty and students located in the Denver area. I will be in Denver on April 15-18 and would like to discuss how my education and experience can benefit your district. I will contact you on March 12 to schedule an appointment. I look forward to speaking with you soon.

Sincerely,

Joy McNeil
Human Resources Director
Jordan School District
9361 South 300 East
Sandy, UT 84070

Dear Ms. McNeil:

I am very interested in working as a secondary English teacher in Jordan School District. I understand that your district is growing rapidly and that you have some great literacy programs in place. I would like to contribute my skills and experience to your programs.

I will receive an English-teaching bachelor’s degree from Utah State University in May and will be licensed to teach at the secondary level. In addition to coursework in literacy, writing, and classroom management, I have substitute taught, tutored, and worked in other literacy programs. I have a strong desire to help students in the Jordan School District to succeed.

I am very interested in discussing my qualifications for an English teaching position with you in more detail. I would appreciate an interview and will contact you next week to schedule an appointment.

Regards,

Remember to Follow-up

Whether you are following up after an interview or developing a relationship with a potential employer, keep the lines of communication open. If you say you are going to follow-up within a specified time frame, be sure to do so.

Thank You Letter – sent as a follow-up to any networking opportunity or interview.

Follow-up Letter – an opportunity to inquire about your previous communications or encounters with a potential employer.
To ensure you are using the right resume format that best matches your skills, ask yourself:

“Is my work experience related to the job I’m applying for?”

If “yes,” consider using a chronological resume. If “no,” consider using a skills resume. *To be effective you may need both types.

Chronological Resume Format

Header (include name, address, city, state, zip, telephone number(s), and email address)

Headline (position you are seeking)

Education (degree currently seeking, previous degrees, graduation date; major(s), minor(s), & emphasis; GPA (optional); academic institution (city & state or city & country); academic honors/scholarships (unless included elsewhere); and certifications/licenses)

Projects/Research/Academics (describe relevant projects/research using the language of your field, tools or technologies used, and results obtained)

Work Experience (start with most recent and work backwards)

- JobTitle, Organization Name, Location, Dates
  - responsibilities with a focus on quantifying achievements and results

- JobTitle, Organization Name, Location, Dates

Computer Technical Skills

- include computer, field, lab, and other technical skills

Leadership/Service/Activities

- JobTitle, Organization Name, Location, Dates
  - contributions made through offices held, projects completed, services delivered, awards, etc.

*List dates as mm/yy-mm/yy, month year-month year, or month year-present

Skills Resume Format

Header (include name, address, city, state, zip, telephone number(s), and email address)

Headline (position you are seeking)

Education (degree currently seeking, previous degrees, graduation date; major(s), minor(s), & emphasis; GPA (optional); academic institution (city & state or city & country); academic honors/scholarships (unless included elsewhere); and certifications/licenses)

Relevant Skills & Experience

- Skill Subheading 1
  - outline your skills as they relate to the job you are seeking. Under each subheading, write statements that reflect that skill

- Skill Subheading 2
  - draw from: academics, projects, employment, internships, undergraduate research, volunteer service, leadership, extra-curricular activities, etc.

- Skill Subheading 3
  - when possible, share results, not simple job responsibilities

Work/Volunteer History

- JobTitle, Organization Name, Location, Dates
  (include job titles, company name, location (city & state or city & country), and dates of employment by month and year)

Remember your first skills heading should relate directly to the position you are applying for.

Resume Samples C & D
Important Tips for a Reference Sheet

- Always ask your references if they are prepared to give you a good recommendation. Provide your references with a resume, job description, and type(s) of job you are applying for so they can speak about your qualifications effectively.
- Provide three to five references.
- Use at least one (more is better) employment-related reference. Good sources include previous supervisors, co-workers, faculty, advisors, or community/service leaders.
- Keep personal references to a minimum.
- Use the same color and quality of paper for the reference sheet as you do for your resume.
- Only submit your references when requested. Otherwise, take your reference sheet with you to the interview.
- Thank your references and anyone else instrumental in your job search when you accept a job offer.

As your career builds, keep your reference list up-to-date.

Are Your Attachments Getting Read?

Save and send your cover letter and resume as one document—this ensures your cover letter and resume are read as one effective marketing tool.
Interviewing

To succeed in interviews, you must sell a very important product – yourself – to an organization. Expect the interviewer to discuss your specific qualifications as they relate to the job opening. Be ready with examples of your skills/successes as they match the job. People who interview well are often better employees because they have learned how to sell themselves and their ideas to others.

- Research the company you are pursuing.
- Whenever possible, identify a contact inside the organization who can provide you with valuable information about your ability to solve the employer’s needs/problems. Frame your answers using this information.
- Confirm time, place, name of company, and interviewer(s). Arrive 10 minutes early and DO NOT use any electronic devices while waiting.
- Dress appropriately and be sure you have several copies of your resume and references (on resume quality paper).
- Maintain a positive attitude, eye contact, and smile.
- Take relevant samples of your work (hard and soft copy) that illustrate your skills in key areas.
- Practice responding to sample questions. Be sure to link your qualifications to the job by using examples.
- Have a list of questions to ask the interviewer. Gather valuable information regarding the position or organization. This also illustrates your research.

Source: University of Buffalo Career Services, 2016.

Dress for Success

Formal Dress – for MORE traditional/conservative fields

For Women: A suit with a knee-length skirt or pants and blouse. A skirt or pants with a blouse and no jacket or a day dress that is structured and not too dressy is also acceptable. Shoes should be appropriate to the outfit and heels should not be too high.

For Men: A suit and tie is best with dress shoes. A long-sleeved dress shirt with a tie and no jacket is also acceptable.

Business Casual – for LESS traditional/conservative fields

For Women: A skirt (about knee length) or nice pants with a blouse or sweater is appropriate. Avoid shorts, sneakers, t-shirts, and too much jewelry, and remember good grooming.

For Men: A shirt with a collar that buttons is best though a nice polo shirt is acceptable with slacks, not jeans. Avoid shorts, t-shirts, sneakers, and remember good grooming.

Tip: If you are not sure if you should dress more casual or formal, dress formal to be safe.
No matter the type of job, you can expect to be asked behavior-based questions in most of your job interviews. The theory behind behavioral interviewing assumes that the best predictor of future performance is past performance. Employers use the behavioral interview technique to evaluate a candidate's experiences and behaviors so they can determine the potential for success. To answer these questions well, you should give detailed descriptions of actual situations and how you handled those situations. Here is a formula to help you be thorough in your answers:

STAR:

\text{Situation} + \text{Task} + \text{Action} + \text{Result} = \text{Strong Response}

Questions are typically not structured as questions, but are intended to elicit a specific example. Questions typically start out: “Tell me about a time…” or “Describe a situation…” or “Give me an example of…” To demonstrate the desired behavior, be ready with STAR examples that include past internships or work experiences, related classes or projects, extracurricular activities, leadership, team involvement, athletics, and community service.

GETTING TO KNOW YOU
- Why did you choose teaching as a career?
- Who most influenced your decision to become a teacher?
- Describe a personal experience which had an impact on your teaching.
- What passions do you bring to teaching?
- What books are you reading now for both professional growth and pleasure?
- What are your interests outside of teaching?

INTERPERSONAL SKILLS
- Give an example when you faced conflict while teaching, either with students, parents, faculty, or administration. How do you work through/resolve this conflict?
- Describe a positive impact you had on a student.
- How important is it for you to be well liked by your students?
- What are the best ways to establish rapport with students?
- How would you develop a good working relationship with your colleagues?
- Describe your ideal team. What qualities would you bring to the team?
- What five adjectives would students use to describe you?
- How would you like to be remembered by your students?
- How do you facilitate collaboration between home and school?
- When confronted by a parent on an issue, how do you best respond?

CLASSROOM MANAGEMENT/ORGANIZATION
- What classroom management style have you found most effective?
- What would be your classroom rules?
- How would you develop student independence and self-discipline in your classroom?
- How would you handle a student who continually disturbed your class?
- Describe the toughest discipline situation you encountered and how you handled it.
- If you are having classroom management difficulties, when and who would you ask for help?

ASSESSMENT
- How do you assess whether your curriculum is appropriately matched to your students’ needs?
- How do you assess whether your students are learning?
- How does standardized testing affect your teaching?

SELF-ANALYSIS/OTHER
- Discuss a challenge you encountered during student teaching. What did you learn from it?
- How do you evaluate your effectiveness as a teacher?
- During your student teaching experience, what did you find most challenging?
- Where do you see yourself in five years?

INSTRUCTION
- What are the most important aspects of a teacher’s job description?
- What skills does an outstanding teacher need?
- Describe your ideal classroom.
- What teaching methods do you find most effective?
- What are the components of an effective lesson plan?
- Describe a lesson which was particularly successful by walking me through each stage from planning through delivery.
- How do you plan a unit of study from start to finish?
- How do you know when students are engaged?
- How do you deal with unmotivated students?
- How would you differentiate your instruction to accommodate the varied needs of students (English language learners, racial diversity, gifted, special education, at risk, and slow learners)?
- Should a teacher have the same expectations for every student?
- How did you use technology during your student teaching?

"Candidates need much more practice in answering behavior-based interview questions. They should produce real, specific, past examples. Never say, ‘I just LOVE kids!’"

-Lyle Cox, HR Director for Washington County School District
“How would you establish and maintain a respectful and effective classroom climate?”
“Perhaps allow students to give input in the rule-making procedures; class meetings; require students to be courteous and reward the behavior; teacher always models the behavior; enforce rules with fairness and consistency.”

“Describe some strategies you would use to meet the individual academic needs of all students in a regular classroom.”
“Utilize a variety of teaching and learning strategies; pace the activities to keep attention; challenge gifted students with brain teasers or extra credit activities; promote peer help and cooperative learning groups.”

“How will you motivate your students to learn?”
“Ensure that students can relate knowledge of the subject to their lives without feeling that it is a waste of time; students have a tendency to learn more from a relevant task; there is an enjoyment factor when the subject relates to something in the lives of the students.”

“What’s your greatest strength?”
Now is the time to brag; think of an example of something that has gone really well for you during your student teaching; perhaps something your cooperating teacher or student teacher coordinator has identified.

“What’s your greatest weakness?”
The key to a successful answer is to not only discuss a weakness (nothing too negative), but more importantly, how you compensated for this weakness. For example, you could say, “I’ve learned to prioritize to get the job done, so I always answer my e-mails and phone calls right away. I have developed strategies to improve my organizational skills.”

“What do you see yourself doing five years from now?”
Keep this response professional; avoid relaying personal goals and relate long term goals that support your desire to be working in the education industry.

“Give some examples of the ways you might check for student understanding.”
“Student answers, both factual and higher order; choral responses by the class; group work to review information; short written exercises which are corrected immediately, etc.”

“How will you involve parents in your classroom?”
“Ask for volunteers; communicate regularly with parents; make “positive” calls and send notes of the same; send out “disclosures” of class expectations—ask for parent signature; contact parents before school year begins.”

“How will you ensure that all core curriculum standards are “covered” during the year?”
“Create a scope and sequence that relates to the core standards; check off standards as they are met; compare the core curriculum with any current texts or supplemental materials to ensure that they follow the Core.”

“What strategies would you use to maintain students’ attention while you are engaged in teaching?”
“Non-verbal signals; proximity control; reinforced desired behaviors; pacing the activity; diversity teaching methods.”

“Do you have any questions for me?”
This is a question you can always anticipate. As a result of your research into the organization, you should always have several job or company-specific questions to ask. These questions help to illustrate your interest in the position and organization.

Improve your interviewing skills through a mock interview with your career coach before your next interview!
An interview is meant to be a two-way street. The interviewer’s job is to determine whether you’re the best fit for the position. At the same time, you should be asking questions to determine if the position and school/district is right for you. Consider asking the following questions:

The School/District:
- What types of activities promote parent-teacher-student interaction?
- How do teachers participate in curriculum review and change?
- What do you consider to be your school’s most important assets?
- Does this school have a mentor/coaching program?
- Does your school use teacher aids or parent volunteers?
- How do staff members work collaboratively to solve problems and respond to the needs of students?

The Position:
- How are teachers assigned to extracurricular activities?
- When you think of the most effective teacher who has ever worked in this school, what three qualities or traits did this person possess?
- What kind of training and professional development opportunities are available?
- Do you encourage teachers to earn graduate degrees?

The Expectations & Next Steps:
- What are the most immediate challenges I would face in this position?
- What are the performance expectations of this position over the first year?
- How will I be evaluated and how often?
- What are the next steps in the interview process and when do you hope to make a decision? (always ask this question)

Virtual Interviews

Your first interview with a potential employer may occur virtually, especially if you are interviewing with an organization outside of Utah. Relocating can add diversity to your background and help you “grow your career.” You may receive a call from an employer as a result of an application you submitted, after meeting at a career fair, or to set up a virtual interview; whatever the circumstance, be prepared.

Take a Surprise Call in Stride
If you receive an unexpected call as a result of networking on your part, be calm. Sound positive, friendly, and confident. Take a moment to gather your thoughts and the items listed in the next section. You might say, “Thank you for calling, Ms. Martinez. Could you wait just a moment while I close the door?”

How to Prepare for a Virtual Interview
Be prepared for the virtual interview just as you would for an in-person interview. Have ready:

- Pen and paper for taking notes
- Your resume
- A list of accomplishments, experiences, and key points that relate to the position
- Research you have done on the company
- Questions to ask the interviewer
- Your calendar to schedule future interviews and follow-up dates

Pace the Conversation
Let the representative ask most (but not all) of the questions. Keep up your end of the conversation—this is, after all, a sales presentation. Ask a few questions of your own that will reveal your knowledge and enthusiasm about the company you are interviewing with.

Beware of “Yes/No” Answers
“Yes” or “No” answers are excellent when you want to end a conversation in a hurry AND YOU DON’T WANT TO! Answer questions thoroughly and include appropriate examples of your skills and talents as they relate to the job.

Be Factual in Your Answers
Be brief, but thorough. Use examples whenever possible that allow you to talk about previous work experience, relevant projects, and anything else that allows you to display your knowledge of your field and of the company. The first interview is not the time to ask about salary or benefits.

Take Notes
These notes will be valuable to you in preparing for the face-to-face meeting and in writing a thank you letter or e-mail, which you should send as soon as possible after the interview.

Follow-up
As with any interview, follow-up is critical. Confirm the spelling of the interviewer’s name and be sure you have his/her contact information. This follow-up communication enables you to reiterate your interest in the position and summarize your qualifications as they relate to the position you interviewed for.

Last but not Least......
The following tips will help ensure your success in a virtual interview:

- Make sure your voice mail greeting is appropriate and professional.
- Speak directly into the speaker, enunciate, and speak clearly.
- Smile—this comes through in your voice.
- Dress professionally. This can put you in the right “frame of mind” for the interview.
- Make sure your environment is quiet and free from distractions feel free to use an office at Career Services as a quiet spot for an interview.
- Finish the interview by reiterating your interest in and qualifications for the position.
- Avoid filler words (“um,” “ah,” “ok”).
- Practice, if possible, by doing mock interview at Career Services.
- Avoid chewing gum, eating, or drinking.
- Ask for extra time, if needed, when answering questions.
- Don’t feel the need to fill in silences or gaps in conversation.
Steps to Follow-up
Immediately after any meeting make some notes about what occurred. Follow-up as soon as possible with a thank you (email, telephone, handwritten note, or typed letter). Any written messages should contain no grammar, spelling, or format errors. Keep your communication brief and professional. Make sure to obtain business cards so spelling/titles are accurate. The following are suggestions for effective follow-up by type of encounter:

Immediately after the Interview ask yourself:
- Who did you meet?
- Why can you do the job?
- What does the job entail?
- What went poorly? Why? Did you neglect to discuss key qualifications/skills?
- What is the next step in the selection process?
- What skills/experience was the interviewer visibly impressed by?

Writing the Follow-up
- Remind the contact how and when you met.
- Emphasize any key skills you can contribute to the workplace.
- Use success statements to SHOW not TELL the employer you are a great match for the position.
- Ask for a meeting and/or a referral to another potential contact.

For assistance in writing effective, customized follow-up messages and other employment documents, see your Career Coach.

Employment Documents
Successful job applicants follow-up their cover letters/resumes and online applications within a week. When asking for a meeting in your cover letter, which is recommended, you should include a follow-up time frame. You MUST contact the employer if you say you will; otherwise, you show a lack of follow-through and enthusiasm for the position.
- Experts advise making three to five attempts to reach the employer.
- Add the employer to your social media list, even if you are not selected for an interview.
- Ask for tips on improving your cover letter/resume and interviewing skills.
- Invite them to your LinkedIn account.

Sample Interview Follow-Up (Email Version)
Omit return address and date when emailing
Omit inside address when emailing
Dear Dr. Bryan:
Thank you for interviewing me yesterday for the associate engineer position. I enjoyed meeting you and learning more about your research and design work. I am very interested in working for Atlantic Engineering Systems designing hydraulic systems.

My education and internship experiences fit nicely with the job requirements, and I can be immediately effective given my computer and design skills. I neglected to mention in the interview my membership in the Society for Women Engineers at Utah State University. As a member of this student organization, I have gained valuable leadership skills and participated in a variety of community service activities.

I want to reiterate my interest in the position and in working with your team. You provide the kind of opportunity I seek, and I would be happy to meet with you again. Again, thank you for the interview and your consideration.

Sincerely,
Jane Hancock

The following headings reflect options on the toolbar <these>

1. Completing Your Profile
   a. In the <My Profile> tab you will be able to fill in important information such as, your name, grade, work experience, extracurricular activities, courses taken, projects, skills, personal information, and write a short biography for employers to see. You also will be able to see if any employers have viewed your profile.
   b. Make sure to upload a resume and any other important documents in the <Documents> tab.
   c. Also fill out the <Career Interests> survey, this will affect the jobs you will see later on when you begin your search.
   d. It is important to complete your profile and keep your information up to date, especially your teaching area, minors, etc. If you set your profile to let Career Services share your contact information with employers, your majors, minors, etc. are the most important filters.
      a. For example, if a principle calls looking for math teachers immediately, Career Services will send a list of students who have allowed CS to do so and who filled in their profile as math teaching. So if you do not keep that information up to date, you may miss out on a great opportunity.

2. Searching for Jobs
   a. Go to the <Jobs & Internships> tab, here you can see jobs that have been posted that go along with your career interest. Also you can narrow the search with the filters on the side. If you have work study the information should already be in so you should be able to see those jobs as well.
   b. If you are looking to work under a certain employer you can go to the <Search Employers> tab and find the employer and any open positions that way.

3. Applying for jobs and On-Campus interviews
   a. Begin by clicking on the job you are interested in applying for. If you match the employer’s preferences you should see a button in the middle of the screen approximately that will say <Apply Now> upon clicking that button you will need to choose the proper documents to upload. If you do not have any uploaded you can do so in the <Documents> tab.
   b. If you have applied for a job and need to schedule an interview that will take place on campus you will need to go in the <On-campus Interviews> tab and find a time and date that works for you. If you must cancel be sure to be responsible and contact the employer to tell them you are doing that.

4. Viewing past Job Applications
   a. To view jobs you have applied for go to the <Applications> tab. Here you can view the jobs you have applied for.

5. To find upcoming events
   a. Go to the <Events> tab. This will show all upcoming events that have been posted on AGGIE Handshake.
   b. If you are looking for a certain event or fair go to the <Search Events> or the <Search Fairs> tab.
